RESOLUTIONS ON FIRST READING

Senate Resolution 11

Senate Resolution 11, introduced by Senator J.D. Ford:

A SENATE RESOLUTION urging the legislative council to assign to the appropriate study committee the issue of student loan lending and servicing.

Whereas, Article 8, Section 1 of the Indiana State Constitution states that "knowledge and learning, generally diffused throughout a Community [is] essential to the preservation of free government;"

Whereas, Hoosiers owe $27.5 billion in student loan debt cumulatively, and an average of $31,375 each;

Whereas, The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and the United States Department of Justice have taken enforcement action against many banks and companies in the student loan industry in recent years for unfair lending practices;

Whereas, A thriving 21st century economy requires advanced degrees and training for its workforce; and

Whereas, The appropriate study committee assigned to this topic is encouraged to comparatively review methods of state oversight of the student loan industry: Therefore,

Be it resolved by the Senate of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana:

SECTION 1. That the Indiana Senate urges the legislative council to assign to the appropriate study committee the topic of student loan lending and servicing.

The resolution was read in full and referred to the Committee on Education and Career Development.

Senate Resolution 13

Senate Resolution 13, introduced by Senator J.D. Ford:

A SENATE RESOLUTION urging the legislative council to assign to an appropriate study committee the topic of the potential dangers of cyber-hacking in state government, specifically the use of ransomware.

Whereas, According to PEW Research Center, 64% of Americans have experienced some type of cyber-hacking or breach of data. However, despite the prevalence of cyber-hacking, the majority of Americans, 69%, do not worry about the security of their personal passwords;

Whereas, Employees, including state government officials, are potential targets of cyber-hacking as demonstrated by the cyber-theft of $4.2 million from the Oklahoma Law Enforcement Retirement System in 2019. A hacker perpetrated this cyber-theft through the email account of an Oklahoma Law Enforcement Retirement System employee;

Whereas, After a ransomware attack, officials in Riviera Beach, Florida paid $600,000 to regain control over their government computers;

Whereas, In 2019, Isaac Schleifer, a councilman from Baltimore, Maryland, estimated the financial cost of ransomware attacks in his city to be $18.2 million;

Whereas, Ransomware is one example of software that can be used to freeze an individual's access to his or her account and steal sums of money. According to the Washington Post, the United States faces 4,000 ransomware attacks daily. Many of these attacks begin through an email phishing scheme. State government employees are not immune to these attacks; and

Whereas, State government officials must be aware of this potential cyber-security risk and take precautions against this threat of ransomware: Therefore,

Be it resolved by the Senate of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana:

SECTION 1. That the legislative council is urged to assign to an appropriate study committee the topic of the potential dangers of cyber-hacking in state government, specifically the use of ransomware.

The resolution was read in full and referred to the Committee on Commerce and Technology.

Sec. 3. (a) The fiscal body of the town may adopt an ordinance to impose an excise tax, known as the town food and beverage tax, on transactions described in section 4 of this chapter. (b) If the town fiscal body adopts an ordinance under subsection (a), the town fiscal body shall immediately send a certified copy of the ordinance to the department of state revenue.

- (2) food sold in a heated state or heated by a retail merchant;
- (3) made of two (2) or more food ingredients, mixed or combined by a retail merchant for sale as a single item (other than food that is only cut, repackaged, or pasteurized by the seller, and eggs, fish, meat, poultry, and foods containing these raw animal foods requiring cooking by the consumer as recommended by the federal Food and Drug Administration in chapter 3, subpart 3-401.11 of its Food Code so as to prevent food borne illnesses); or
- (4) food sold with eating utensils provided by a retail merchant, including plates, knives, forks, spoons, glasses, cups, napkins, or straws (for purposes of this subdivision, a plate does not include a container or package used to transport the food).

Sec. 5. The town food and beverage tax rate:

Sec. 9. Money in the food and beverage tax receipts fund must be used by the town for one (1) or more of the following purposes:

- (1) To reduce the town's property tax levy for a particular year at the discretion of the town, but this use does not reduce the maximum permissible ad valorem property tax levy under IC 6-1.1-18.5 for the town.
