Whereas, Lawrence M. "Larry" Borst, Jr., was born on July 16, 1927, in Champaign County, Ohio, to the late Lawrence M. and Mary Waldeck Borst;

Whereas, Borst married Eldoris J. Wood on March 20, 1948, in Columbus, Ohio, and together they had three children, Elizabeth, Philip, and David Borst;

Whereas, Borst was a World War II Army veteran;

Whereas, Borst was a 1950 graduate of The Ohio State University School of Veterinary Medicine and was the owner of Shelby Street Animal Clinic, retiring in 1986;

Whereas, Borst served in the Indiana House of Representatives and the Indiana Senate a total of 38 years, received the 1987 National Legislator of the Year award, and was recognized with many other honors and awards during his public service life;

Whereas, Former state senator Larry Borst was one of the most influential budget leaders in modern state history;

Whereas, For more than three decades, Borst was chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, the panel through which the budget and all tax legislation has to pass;

Whereas, Both an understated and commanding presence, Borst was nicknamed the "Silver Fox," a nod to his thick gray hair and his crafty approach to legislation;

Whereas, His colleagues referred to him as the "titan of Indiana politics," and they recall that Borst played a major role in helping to transform Indianapolis into the great city that it is today;

Whereas, Borst, who wrote a book recounting his career called, "Gentlemen, It's Been My Pleasure," had a major role in developing Uni-Gov, which largely merged Marion County and Indianapolis government, and he crafted a number of tax-restructuring programs, helped craft former Governor Bob Orr's A+ education plan, helped determine the distribution of tobacco settlement money for health programs, wrote the law that brought pari-mutuel wagering for horse racing to Indiana, and helped create the Hoosier Lottery;

Whereas, Borst studied legislation intently and knew the details and intricacies of every bill that came before his committee, often more so than the authors and proponents;

Whereas, According to veteran Statehouse journalists, Borst was truly the Silver Fox because he could see the end game of every session before it began, and he was a brilliant politician who used that skill to serve his greater purpose - that of a statesman;

Whereas, Those who knew him at the Statehouse recount that he truly did things for Indiana's benefit, not just until the next election, but for the next decade;

Whereas, Borst passed away on December 20, 2016, at age 89, and he is survived by his wife Eldoris, daughter Elizabeth

(Bill) Murphy, sons Philip (Jill) Borst, and David Borst, grandchildren Adam (Amanda) Yates, Brandon Yates, Alex Borst, Eric Borst, and brother John Borst;

Whereas, The passing of Larry Borst is a great loss to all Hoosiers, to whom Borst dedicated so much of his life in public service; and
