RESOLUTIONS ON FIRST READING

Senate Resolution 59

Senate Resolution 59, introduced by Senator Waterman:

A SENATE RESOLUTION urging the Legislative Council to assign to a study committee the topic of home health care workers and service providers.

Whereas, Home health care workers in Indiana play a vital role in maintaining the health and well being of Hoosiers that need in-home services and related forms of long-term care; and

Whereas, The well being of home health care workers is vital to the health and vitality of the individuals and families they serve: Therefore,

Be it resolved by the Senate of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana:

SECTION 1. That the Legislative Council is urged to assign to an interim study committee during the 2014 legislative interim, the topic of home health care workers and service providers.

SECTION 2. That if the topic is assigned to a study committee, the committee shall review the following factors as to their impact on home health care workers:

- (1) working conditions;
- (2) health and disability benefits;
- (3) vacation and other quality of life benefits;
- (4) compensation;
- (5) workplace and professional training; and
- (6) worker protections under Indiana law.

SECTION 3. That the study committee, if the topic is assigned to a study committee, shall consist of members equally selected from the four caucuses of the General Assembly. The committee members shall receive per diem and other compensation as determined by the Legislative Council.

SECTION 4. That the study committee, if the topic is assigned to a study committee, shall operate under the direction of the Legislative Council and shall issue a final report to the General Assembly and the Governor no later than December 15, 2014.

SECTION 5. The Secretary of the Senate is hereby directed to transmit copies of this Resolution to the Legislative Council.

The resolution was read in full and referred to the Committee on Pensions and Labor.

Senate Resolution 60

Senate Resolution 60, introduced by Senator Hershman:

A SENATE RESOLUTION intended to urge the Indiana Department of Transportation to rename a section of U.S. Highway 231 the "Ray Ewry Memorial Highway".

Whereas, Ray Ewry was born on October 14, 1873, and grew up in Lafayette, Indiana;

Whereas, Mr. Ewry was orphaned at the age of 5 and diagnosed with polio at the age of 7;

Whereas, Ray Ewry, despite being told he would never walk again, was able to stand and walk with the help of a physical therapist who strengthened his legs;

Whereas, Mr. Ewry's tenacity and self-determination were described in this way: "There was Ray, doing his exercises from the moment he woke up in the morning until the moment he fell asleep at night. There was Ray, pushing himself out of his chair and onto the ground, pushing the earth away, teaching himself to stand. There was Ray, balancing himself on his two feet. There was Ray, leaving the ground, jumping. Imagine the look on the boy's face as he jumped for the first time. Ray jumped over and over again. He jumped simply because he could. He jumped not for glory or for gold, but to keep the wheelchair away";

Whereas, Ray Ewry went on to lead the Purdue University varsity track team in its first national title, breaking records in the standing high jump, the standing long jump, and the standing triple jump;

Whereas, Mr. Ewry competed in the Paris Olympics in 1900, the St. Louis Olympics in 1904, the Athens Olympics in 1906, and the London Olympics in 1908, winning every event he competed in for a total of 10 gold medals;

Whereas, Ray Ewry was dubbed "L'Homme Grenouille" or the "Frog Man" due to the length and height he was able to leap, bound, and hop;

Whereas, Ray Ewry is among the most successful Olympians of all time, second only to Michael Phelps' 11 medals;

Whereas, Mr. Ewry was inducted into the USA Track and Field Hall of Fame in 1974;

Whereas, Mr. Ewry used the engineering degree he received from Purdue University to build dams and reservoirs for the New York Board of Water Supply that still today supply drinking water to a city of over 8 million residents; and

Whereas, Mr. Ewry inspires all of us to "dream big" and to believe that nothing is beyond our reach. His achievements are a reminder to all that we can overcome any limitation if we are prudent, work hard, and truly believe in our ability to succeed: Therefore,

Be it resolved by the Senate of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana:

SECTION 1. That the Indiana Senate honors the memory of Raymond Clarence Ewry and his legacy and intends to urge the Indiana Department of Transportation to rename a section of U.S. Highway 231 the "Ray Ewry Memorial Highway".

SECTION 2. That copies of this resolution be transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate to the family of Ray Ewry and the Commissioner of the Indiana Department of Transportation.

The resolution was read in full and referred to the Committee on Homeland Security, Transportation and Veterans Affairs.

RESOLUTIONS ON FIRST READING

Senate Concurrent Resolution 40

Senate Concurrent Resolution 40, introduced by Senator Nugent:

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION recognizing and congratulating the City of Rising Sun on the occasion of its bicentennial anniversary.

Whereas, The land surrounding present-day Ohio County, Indiana was originally a hunting ground for many Native American tribes. The land's elevation above the Ohio River made it particularly disease-free, and wildlife flourished. These qualities appealed to both Native Americans and European settlers alike;

Whereas, Documentation of settlers prior to the Northwest Ordinance becoming official is difficult, due to the lack of troops to provide protection. The first documented settlers were members of the family of Samuel Fulton, an uncle to steamboat inventor Robert Fulton;

Whereas, In 1814, John James of Fredericksburg, Maryland, journeyed to the area and purchased a large tract of land from Colonel Benjamin Chambers, who had acquired the land while conducting the original survey for the Northwest Ordinance. John James and his son, Pinckney, surveyed the land and platted what was to be Rising Sun. In 1816, John James registered the town of Rising Sun;

Whereas, Various legends claim credit for the naming of the town of Rising Sun, but most attribute the name to the beautiful daybreak that one may witness from the hills overlooking the Ohio River;

Whereas, The small town grew rapidly, growing to a population of 700 by 1816. A large German community formed, and other settlers came too, looking for new homes and opportunities;

Whereas, Trade and commerce in the town flourished during the 1830s and 1840s. Rising Sun began producing steamboats, plows, and many other goods, which were shipped on the Ohio River to many port cities. Rising Sun quickly grew a reputation as one of the great cities in the north because of the large amount of goods coming out of the city. During this time, the population of Rising Sun grew to approximately 2,500;

Whereas, In 1844, partially due to a "clerical error," the new Ohio County, with Rising Sun as the county seat, successfully separated from Dearborn County. In 1845, the present Ohio County courthouse was built entirely by donation. The courthouse remains the oldest courthouse in continuous operation in the State of Indiana;

Whereas, Around the same time, the "iron horse" was invented, which allowed for the shipping of goods inland. The locomotive was not dependent upon seasonal changes and depths of rivers. As the locomotive became the predominant method of moving goods, Rising Sun, still dependent on river traffic for the shipment of goods, began to lose many of the businesses that had led to its growth; and

Whereas, Without a rail line, Rising Sun settled into a sleepy existence. However, several small family-owned businesses still flourish in the town, which retains its quaint beauty and welcoming Hoosier hospitality: Therefore,

Be it resolved by the Senate of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, the House of Representatives concurring:

SECTION 1. That the Indiana General Assembly recognizes and congratulates the City of Rising Sun on the occasion of its bicentennial anniversary.

SECTION 2. The Secretary of the Senate is hereby directed to send copies of this Resolution to Branden Roeder, Mayor of the City of Rising Sun.

The resolution was read in full and adopted by voice vote. The Chair instructed the Secretary to inform the House of the passage of the resolution. House sponsor: Representative Frye.

Senate Concurrent Resolution 42

Senate Concurrent Resolution 42, introduced by Senator Waterman:

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION honoring Purple Heart recipients First Sergeant Gregory Swanson and World War II veteran Leonard Wayne McIntosh for their service, sacrifice, and courage.

Whereas, The Purple Heart is awarded to members of the armed forces of the United States who are wounded by an instrument of war in the hands of the enemy and posthumously to the next of kin in the name of those who are killed in action or die of wounds received in action. The honor is specifically a combat decoration;

Whereas, Leonard Wayne McIntosh, a resident of rural Bloomfield, Indiana, joined the United States Army at age 17, and served for three years in the United States Army's 3rd Infantry Division during the height of the European Theatre of World War II from 1942 to 1945;

Whereas, The 3rd Division was one of the few American divisions that fought the Axis on all European fronts and was among the first United States combat units to engage in offensive ground combat operations during World War II. During World War II, the 3rd Division fought in North Africa, Sicily, Italy, France, Germany, and Austria for 531 consecutive days of combat;

Whereas, McIntosh was injured in a town in southern France when a building into which he was sent was bombed. Wayne lost consciousness from the bombing and regained consciousness in a hospital in London, England;

Whereas, Although McIntosh carried the scars of war and metal fragments from the German bombing for most of his adult life, McIntosh was never awarded a Purple Heart by the United States government due to the destruction of his war service records in a 1973 fire in Saint Louis, Missouri. During the fire at the National Personnel Records Center, approximately 16 to 18 million Official Military Personnel Files were destroyed, including approximately 80 percent of Army personnel discharge papers from November 1, 1912 to January 1, 1960;

Whereas, First Sergeant Gregory Swanson, a resident of rural Bloomfield, Indiana, joined the Indiana Army National Guard at age 17, and serves in the 387th Military Police Company out of New Albany, Indiana;

Whereas, First Sergeant Swanson is an experienced war veteran who has served tours of duty in Iraq, Afghanistan, and in Newport, Indiana at the Newport Chemical Depot as part of a Homeland Security tour;

Whereas, First Sergeant Swanson was injured in Afghanistan in 2012 when the armored truck he was riding in was attacked by insurgents with rocket-propelled grenades and small arms. All inside the truck were injured, and Swanson sustained a leg injury. Swanson still carries some shrapnel in his leg to this day as a constant reminder of the dangers of war;

Whereas, After his hospitalization, First Sergeant Swanson returned to duty. He was awarded a Purple Heart in a ceremony during his deployment in Afghanistan;

Whereas, First Sergeant Swanson awarded his Purple Heart to Leonard Wayne McIntosh posthumously on Wednesday, January 29, 2014, finally conferring upon McIntosh the respect, honor, and gratitude he so richly deserved; and

Whereas, Through his actions, First Sergeant Swanson demonstrated the kind of selfless love, humility, and honor that exemplifies the best of Indiana, thereby setting an example for all Hoosiers to follow: Therefore,

Be it resolved by the Senate of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, the House of Representatives concurring:

SECTION 1. That the Indiana General Assembly honors Purple Heart recipients First Sergeant Gregory Swanson and World War II veteran Leonard Wayne McIntosh for their service, sacrifice, and courage.

SECTION 2. The Secretary of the Senate is hereby directed to transmit copies of this Resolution to First Sergeant Gregory Swanson and Oaklene McIntosh.

The resolution was read in full and adopted by voice vote. The Chair instructed the Secretary to inform the House of the passage of the resolution. House sponsor: Representative Ubelhor.

Senate Concurrent Resolution 43

Senate Concurrent Resolution 43, introduced by Senator Breaux:

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION honoring the National Association of Women Business Owners (NAWBO) during Women's History Month.

Whereas, In 2008, there were more than 10 million women-owned businesses, employing more than 13 million people, and generating $1.9 trillion in sales;

Whereas, The National Association of Women Business Owners (NAWBO) of Indianapolis has played an intricate role in impacting, influencing, and propelling Indiana into a leading state for women-owned businesses;

Whereas, NAWBO steers women entrepreneurs into economic, social, and political spheres of power worldwide, strengthening the wealth-creating capacity of its members and promoting economic development within the entrepreneurial community;

Whereas, NAWBO of Indianapolis creates innovative and effective changes in business culture, builds strategic alliances, coalitions, and affiliations, transforms public policy, and influences opinion makers;

Whereas, NAWBO of Indianapolis is the unified voice of America's women-owned businesses and represents the fastest growing segment of the market;

Whereas, NAWBO is being honored during Women's History Month, an international celebration of the extraordinary accomplishments of women that highlights their historical and contemporary contributions to society;

Whereas, Women's History Month has been held annually every March since 1987;

Whereas, The theme for 2014's Women's History Month, declared by the National Women's History Project, is "Celebrating Women of Character, Courage, and Commitment"; and

Whereas, It is the hope of Women's History Month to not only celebrate the history of women, but to also spread HERstory as well: Therefore,

Be it resolved by the Senate of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, the House of Representatives concurring:

SECTION 1. The Indiana Senate recognizes the National Association of Women Business Owners (NAWBO) of Indianapolis as not only an economic generator, but a community builder and applauds the organization's accomplishments during Women's History Month on behalf of the State of Indiana.

SECTION 2. The Secretary of the Senate is hereby directed to transmit copies of the resolution to Tammy Butler Robinson.

The resolution was read in full and adopted by voice vote. The Chair instructed the Secretary to inform the House of the passage of the resolution. House sponsor: Representative Negele.

Senate Concurrent Resolution 44

Senate Concurrent Resolution 44, introduced by Senator Arnold:

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION honoring the Social and Learning Institute.

Whereas, The Social and Learning Institute, located in Michigan City, Indiana, is a unique school that helps mentally and developmentally impaired adults to socialize, and to learn basic life skills in order to lead independent, creative, and productive lives;

Whereas, The Social and Learning Institute has recently completed a 2500 square foot addition to the rear of their current location, which will allow more individuals to participate in their programs;

Whereas, Originally an experimental program at the LaPorte County Therapy Center entitled "Adult Activities Class", the program provided mentally and developmentally handicapped adults with opportunities to grow in their social and learning skills, as well as instilling the special camaraderie of similar handicapped individuals in a safe, nurturing and protected environment from 1973 to 1976;

Whereas, Funding for the program ran out in 1976, but the need for these services did not;

Whereas, Marguerite Gardner, James Guerrucci, the parents of handicapped individuals, and local volunteers worked diligently alongside Senator Anita Bowser to fill this need in the local community by raising funds, passing meaningful legislation, and raising awareness of the issues involved;

Whereas, The tireless advocacy of these individuals has allowed the Social and Learning Institute to expand their services to more members in the community, increasing the number of students from five to twenty-seven over the past thirty-six years; and

Whereas, The new addition to their building will let the Institute provide services and changes the lives of many more handicapped individuals over the next few years: Therefore,

Be it resolved by the Senate of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, the House of Representatives concurring:

SECTION 1. The Indiana General Assembly recognizes and thanks the Social and Learning Institute for their valuable contribution to well being of handicapped individuals in the State of Indiana.

SECTION 2. The Secretary of the Senate is hereby directed to transmit copies of the resolution to James J. Guerrucci and R.A.Gardner.

The resolution was read in full and adopted by voice vote. The Chair instructed the Secretary to inform the House of the passage of the resolution. House sponsor: Representative Pelath.
